COUNTERFEIT BATTERY WARNING

MORE PERFORMANCE FOR LESS

SureFire pioneered the use of energy-dense 123A lithium batteries to create smaller, brighter, and better illumination tools—and these batteries still power the majority of our lights today. Lithium 123A batteries offer many advantages over alkalines, all of which are listed at www.surefire.com/battery-quality. SureFire also offers rechargeable 123A lithium-phosphate (LFP 123A) batteries for use in our LED illumination tools (not incandescents) designed to run on disposable 123A lithiums. Optimize the performance of your customers' illumination tools, maximize their safety, and save them money and keep them coming back for more by offering only affordable SureFire-brand replacement batteries. For more information on battery safety, handling, storage, and more, visit www.surefire.com/batteries.

COUNTERFEIT & INFERIOR-QUALITY BATTERY WARNING

Dealers are warned against offering their customers inferior-quality or counterfeit batteries, especially those purchased from online auctions and other websites not authorized by SureFire. Inferior and counterfeit batteries have been reported to have caused fires and/or explosions, resulting in property damage and personal injury. SureFire-brand batteries are manufactured in the U.S. to strict quality standards for use in high-drain devices and contain built-in fault and heat protections for added safety. Their use will ensure that your customers enjoy optimal performance from their SureFire illumination tools and that their warranties are not voided. They may also use batteries from well-known brands such as Panasonic, Energizer, and Duracell, which are also manufactured to high standards.

Panasonic is a registered trademark of Panasonic Corporation; Energizer is a trademark of Eveready Battery Company, Inc.; and Duracell is a trademark of the Gillette Company.
